Jing Fang Apprenticeship Costs & Structure 2021-22

Clinic Structure

The Herb Community Clinic runs on Mondays at the Cholsey Complementary Health Centre, Cholsey Pavilion, Station Road, Cholsey, OX10 9PT. We see patients from 11.00 to 2.30, followed by an afternoon discussion session from 3.30-6 (times may vary slightly). One clinic in four is held online via zoom, and on those weeks the clinical runs from 9am-1pm on the Monday, and the discussion session on the next day, Tuesday, from 11am-1.30pm.

In the event of face-to-face clinics becoming impossible again for any reason, the clinic will run online on Monday and Tuesday mornings.

Each case is taken by the supervisor, and whole herbs are dispensed on site by the student group, supervised by the dispensary assistant. The discussion sessions are usually a mixture of discussion of the Jing Fang Six Syndrome Differentiation System, and case examination. You are invited to contribute both questions and cases from your own clinic.

You can attend the Herb Community Clinic flexibly:

- Book one clinic (face-to-face or online) and try it out as a single CPD day, or book by the day: £97
- Book for a term of 10 consecutive clinics to get £100 off per term and work more deeply with the material: £870
- Book for a whole year of 30 clinics plus 5 extra clinics in the summer to make up any clinics missed. Save over £500 plus 5 extra days worth £435: £2400

To book a place, you can contact Frances via the website, and return the Booking Form to her (you can find it at <http://www.francesturner.org/jing-fang-apprenticeship>). You can also ring Frances on 07510 710245, or email her at francesturner.info@gmail.com

Audio Lecture Series

The theory aspect of this training is presented in a three-part lecture series, Jing Fang Introduction Parts I, II and III. The lectures are presented by Frances Turner, in the format of audio with slides, and illustrated by cases from her observation of Dr Feng Shilun in Beijing in 2014, 15 and 16 as well as from her Oxfordshire clinic. It is highly recommended that you study this material before or alongside the clinicals, as it will take you systematically through the herbs and formulas and their clauses in the Shang Han Za Bing Lun. Each part contains 20 hours of live lecture edited down to between 10 and 13 lectures. The cost is £350 per Part, or all three can be purchased for a discounted price of £950.
